

School of Computing

Instructor

The School of Computing at the University of South Alabama is soliciting applications for a full-time instructor with a start date of August 15, 2025. A master's degree or higher in information systems, information technology, or a closely related area is required. Qualified candidates must be committed to student success and retention. Primary duties include teaching undergraduate courses in information systems, information technology, programming, project management, data communications, and other courses as assigned. Candidates should submit electronically: (i) a letter of application (cover letter), (ii) a one-page statement of teaching philosophy, (iii) curriculum vitae, and (iv) contact information for three professional letters of reference to the search committee chair, Dr. Michael Black at istsearchchair@southalabama.edu. Review of applications will commence upon receipt and continue until the position is filled.

The University of South Alabama is an EO/AA employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, religion, age, genetic information, disability, protected veteran status, or other applicable legally protected basis.